ASIAN SOCIETY OF VETERINARY PATHOLOGY

INTRODUCTION

Currently, the enthusiasm in research, innovation and advancement in diagnostic techniques in the field of veterinary pathology remain significant and continues for the control, prevention and eradication of diseases of importance for both human and animals. Therefore this field of science has expanded worldwide contributing in many ways to enhance the health of animals and man and the prosperity of production in the animal industry. In view of this globalization in veterinary pathology, veterinary practitioners, scientists and expertise in other fields of specialization should foster collaboration and cooperation to enhance creativity and innovation towards facing current challenges especially to manage emerging and re-emerging diseases. In lieu with the One Health worldwide strategy for expanding interdisciplinary collaborations and communications in all aspects of health care for humans, animals and the environment, this conference serve as a platform to express views, ideas, concerns, suggestions and criticisms on relevant issues involving expertise and personnel from various institutions, agencies and related bodies from the Asian Countries through this prestigious scientific meeting.
