

The Future is in Your Hands Global One Health Challenge

Rabies is preventable and global elimination of this terrifying zoonosis is possible. As future medical professionals for animals and humans you play an essential role in making this a reality.

The Global One Health Challenge is a competition for veterinary and medical students all over the world, to celebrate the 8th annual World Rabies Day on September 28th

Take part in the Global One Health Challenge to

- ✓ Protect people and animals from rabies
- ✓ Build relationships with others who care about making a difference, and
- ✓ Win exciting prizes

Create a team with other students and register your event.
Hold a rabies prevention event in your community on or near World Rabies Day (September 28)
Share your event with others via social media and submit your completed entry by November 30, 2014.

For more details, ideas, materials, and to register your event, visit – www.rabiesalliance.org or email us at campaigns@rabiesalliance.org

IVSA Tunisia

IVSA Bangladesh

GARC, Philippines

The Global One Health Challenge is a joint initiative of:

#OneHealthChallenge

#TogetherAgainstRabies